The Library of Congress Classification (LCC) was developed to organize and arrange the book collections of the Library of Congress. Over time the system was adopted for use by other libraries, and today is one of the most widely used library classification systems in the world.

- 21 basic classes each identified by a letter of the alphabet

  Example: D, E, F, U

- All 21 classes can be further subdivided by 2 or 3 letter combinations

  Example: DA, DD . . . DS, DT

- Arrangement of topics goes from general information to specific
